Amateur Radio Exam Study Materials

I have listed several documents to help you study for your Amateur Radio license exam. You can select the View links to view these documents in HTML, select the PDF links to view or download a PDF version, select the ZIP links to download a zipped file containing the HTML and related files for local storage on your PC or PDA, or select the PDB links to download an eBook file that is compatible with eReader on multiple platforms including Palm, Windows Mobile, and iPhone.

MF and HF Amateur Radio Band Charts

Here is an easy to read set of band charts for the amateur radio MF and HF bands: 160, 80, 60, 40, 30, 20, 17, 15, 12, and 10 meter. These charts are up to date as of 23 February 2007.

Element 4 Study Materials, 2008 Versions

These study aids have been updated for the new Extra Class question pool that went into effect on July 1, 2008.

I designed these documents as aids for reviewing the exam questions. I strongly encourage you to study the theory first, then review the questions. I highly recommend The ARRL Extra Class License Manual and Gordon West's Extra Class FCC License Preparation for Element 4. Both of these publications were of great help to me in preparing for my Amateur Extra Class exam.

Can you pass the exam without studying the theory? Yes. Should you? No! Please be a good HAM and learn all you can about this wonderful hobby.
